Introduction

The Daily Du'aa Series teaches children in Preschool to 3rd Grade essential Islamic ad'iyaa (supplications) through rhyming stories that engage and entertain. The information taught in this series is based on the classic text Hisnul-Muslim (Fortification of the Muslim) by Sa'id Ibn 'Ali Ibn Wahf Al-Qahtani and supporting references from the Qur'aan and Sahih ahadith. Therefore, you can rest assured that you are teaching from the most authentic sources.

Features: Each storybook covers a single du'aa topic/situation and includes,

- Bright full-color illustrations throughout
- Highlighted keywords and vocabulary
- Arabic text of each du'aa with English translation
- English transliteration (to assist with correct pronunciation)
- Detailed footnotes with references from the Qur'aan and Sahih ahadith
- Durable, high-quality hardcover format or convenient downloadable e-book format

Arabic Transliterations: The following rules of pronunciation have been used.

1. U is sounded as the short U in 'up' (Fut-ha, not Fat-ha)
2. E is sounded as the long E and in 'eat' (e-dhaa, not i-dhaa)
3. A is sounded like the A in 'spa' (Fut-ha)
4. If a letter is repeated twice, it means the sound should be elongated. For example, 'ma-laa-e-ka' where the 'laa' is longer than 'ma.'
5. Dashes have been used to separate syllables in some (not all words) to make the pronunciation more accurate. So, in the example above, 'ma-laa-e-ka' has four syllables.
6. We have made exceptions for certain words that are more commonly spelled in a way that does not follow these rules. For example, wudoo' instead of woodoo.'

Conclusion: We ask Allah to bless this series and the families that use it and to make it of benefit to the Muslim Ummah. May Allah accept these daily ad'iyaa from us and bless our hearts and homes through them-Ameen.

"And remember your Lord by your tongue and within yourself, humbly and in awe, without loudness, by words in the morning and the afternoon, and be not among those who are neglectful." (Qur'aan 7:205)

AHMAD'S
AMAZING
ADHAAN

The Adhaan is something special,
It's the first thing Muslims hear,
On the day we're born, it's whispered,
Softly in our tiny right ear.¹

Then we grow up hearing it called,
Over and over again,

Until we begin to love the sound,
As we learn to pray, and then...

We hear the Adhaan called daily,
So, we stop all our work and play,²

Because we know it's the best time,
To remember Allah and pray!

As the moo'adhin makes Adhaan,
With his voice so strong and clear,

The Muslims rush to answer him,
Gathering from far and near!

* Moo'adhin-The person who calls the Adhaan.

At this small village masjid,
Ahmad's big brother made the call,

Ahmad wanted to do it too,
But his brother said, "You're too small."

Every time he asked his brother,
Talha would smile and say, "Not yet..."

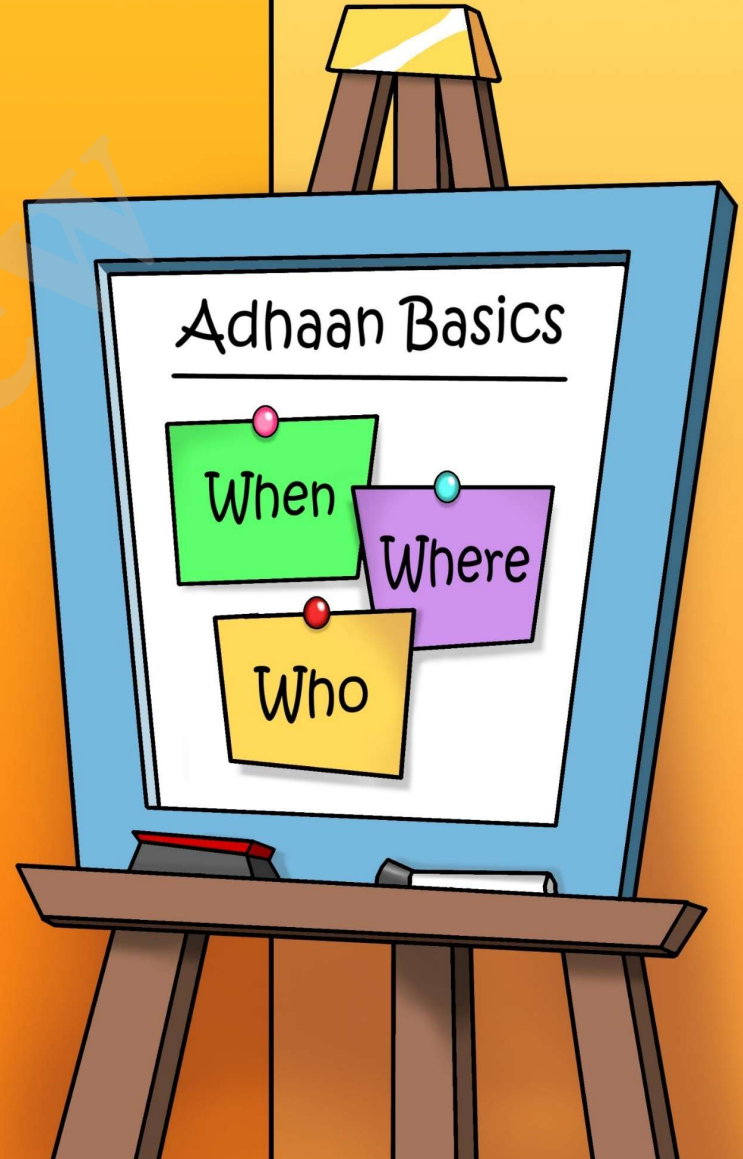

Then one day, Ahmad asked frankly,
"How much bigger must I get?"

“It’s not just your age,” said Talha,
“Or about you needing to grow,

If you want to make the Adhaan,
There are some things you need to know.

Like when and why we make it,
Who has to do it, where, and how.

If you’re really ready to learn that,
I can start teaching you right now.”

“Yes, please!” said Ahmad happily,
“Then, I will know just what to do.”

You can teach me every word,
So I can make Adhaan like you.”

“The Adhaan isn’t just words,” said Talha,
“That you learn to repeat and sing.

The Adhaan is far more special,
It’s an amazing and beautiful thing!”

“You know it calls us to pray, right?”
Ahmad quickly responded, “Yes.”

“Did you also know it calls us to,
Allah’s blessings and success?

It calls us to remember Allah
and Prophet Muhammad too...

These are just a few of the things
That calling the Adhaan can do.”

Come to prayer...
Come to success...

“We make the Adhaan,” said Talha,
“For the daily prayers that are Fard.”³

“Can you name all five of them?” he said,
“Don’t worry. It’s not that hard.”

“Fajr, Dhuhur, ‘Asr, Maghrib,”
Said Ahmad, “and Ishaa’, the last one.”

“You remembered them all,” said Talha,
“You did a great job. Well done!”

“Making Adhaan is something,
That we always do before we pray.

We make it wherever we are,
Whether safe at home or far away.”

“What if we forget,” asked Ahmad,
“To make Adhaan as we should?”

“Don’t worry,” replied Talha kindly,
“Your prayer will still be good.”⁴

“We talked about the when and where,
Now we need to talk about who.”

“That’s easy,” said Ahmad quickly,
“It should be someone just like you.”

“Yes, but did you know,” said Talha,
“Adhaan is only made by men?”

And any man who hears the Adhaan,
Must go to the prayer right then.”⁵

“What about girls?” asked Ahmad,
“Is the Adhaan something they should do?”

“Some women are shy,” replied Talha,
“So, Allah didn’t ask them to.”

They don’t need to make Adhaan,
Whether praying in groups or alone,⁶

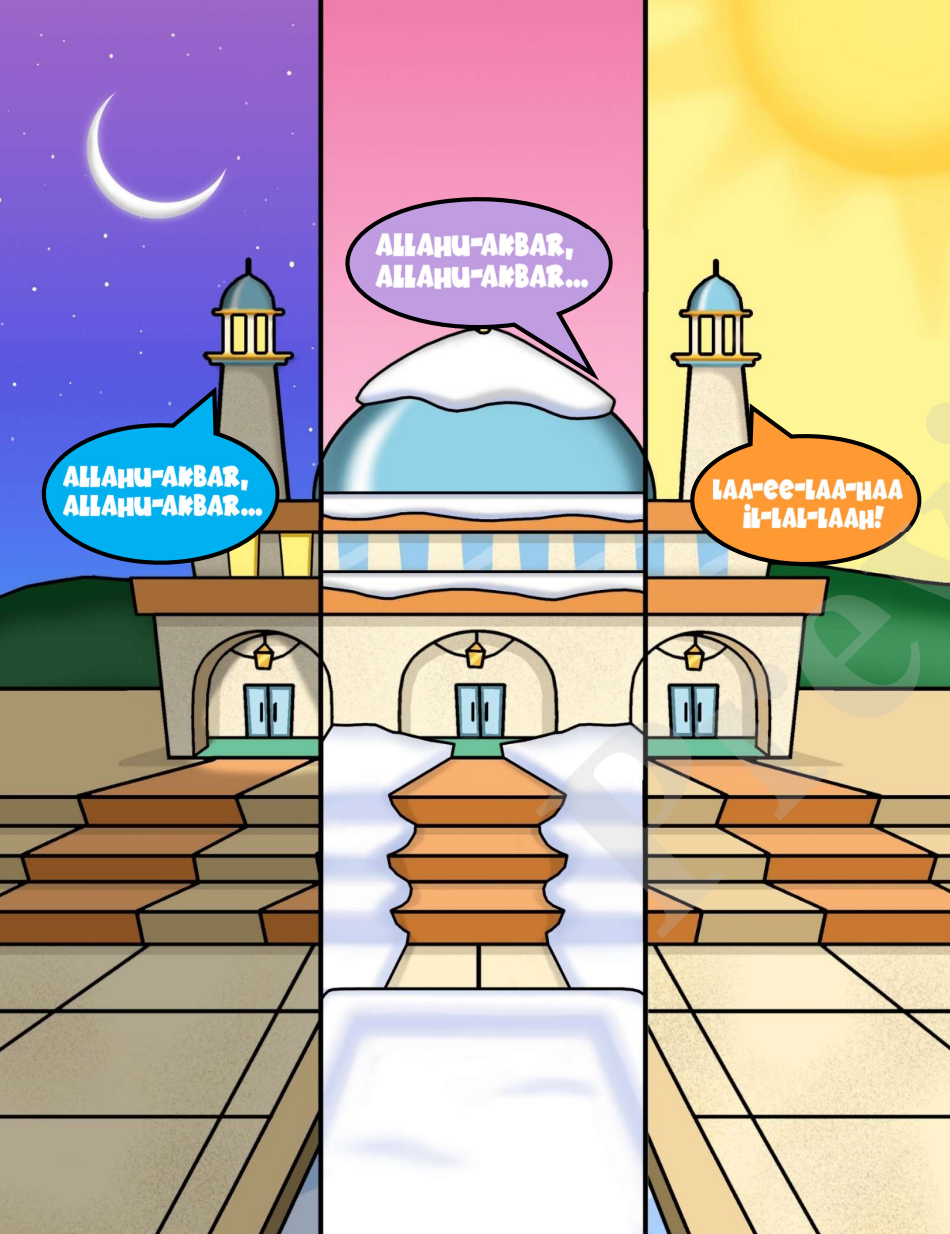

And like a jewel in a case,
Its more beautiful to pray in their home.

But if girls want to pray at the masjid,
Rasulullahﷺ said to let them go,

Because girls are welcome in Allah’s house,
That’s something everyone should know.”

* Rasulullahﷺ said, “Do not prevent your women from visiting the mosque, but their houses are better for them (for praying).” (Sahih Sunan Abi Dawud #567), and “When women ask permission for going to the mosque, do not prevent them.” (Sahih Muslim #442a)

“Men are the ones Allah ordered,
To pray at the masjid, young and old,

So, when Adhaan⁷ is called, men come,
Even when it's hot, late, or cold.⁸

Not every man makes the Adhaan,
If one does it, that counts for the rest,⁹

And when we choose who to do it,
We choose the one whose voice is BEST!”¹⁰
